THE HOUSE.

Washington, Nov. 5-Although the returns from the doubtful congressional districts were slow in arriving, the indications are that the Republicans will control the next house of representatives. In the present house, with a membership of 357, the Republicans have 41 majority. Under the new apportionment the Fifty-eighth house will consist of 386 members, a ma jority of which is 194.

The thirteen southern states, not counting West Virginia, but including Missouri, have 125 representatives. The Democrats have carried 116 of these districts, and the Republicans probably, two in Tennessee, one in Kentucky and two in Missouri, with two in North Carolina, one in Virginis and one in Alabama doubtful. To obtain a majority in the next nouse it was necessary, therefore, for the Democrats to secure 78 votes in the north and west. In this territory they have at present 52 representatives.

The latest returns indicate that this strength has been held, with the exception of one seat each from Idaho, Montana and Nevada, and as to these states the returns at this hour are not conclusive. Adding 49 to 116 gives the Democrats 165.

This leaves them 16 short of a ma

But two of the gains credited to the Democrats in Pennsylvania should properly be set down as fusion Republicans, making the Democrats actually elected by returns thus far received 184, with the doubtful districts in Minnesota having gone Democratic, the one in Kansas having gone solidly Republican, and the one in Iowa Republican, Three of the four doubtful sopthern districts went Democratic. THE SENATE.

Washin gton, Nov. 5-The United States senate will be Republican by at least 16 majority, against the present majority of 20. The present senate contains 54 Republicans and 84 Democrats in a total of 90 seats, there being two vacent from Delaware, where the Republican legislature failed to elect. The terms of 30 senators expire with the present congress. There is also a vancancy from Michigan, caused by the death of Senator McMillan. Of se 31 seats to be filled, not including the McMillan vacancy, 19 are now Republican and 12 are Democrats. Congress When the Explosion Took Place

MANY INJURED IN THE WRECK

New York, Nov. 5-By the premature explosion of four boxes cortaining aerial bobs and other fireworks, 12 persons were killed at 10 o'clock last night and about 20 were badly injured.

Hearst, who was elected representative in congress. The display centered south of the Madison Square Garden, at the intersection of Madison avenue and Twenty-fourth streets

Sparks from a series of roman candles which were being discharged sim ultaneously fell iuto the open boxes, which were closely packed with large serial bombs. At the same moment one of the bombs had been touched off exploded prematurely hurling sparks and fire in every direction.

Instantly there was a tremendon detonation and an awful blast of fire which lighted up Madison Square and all the surrounding buildings.

The entire contents of the boxes and barrels had been exploded. Twelve men who were in charge of the fireworks display were arrested. Among the first to recover self-pos session was the policemen stationed directly about the space which had been kept open at the street corner. Sixteen persons were found lying either dead or unconscious immediately about the scene of the explosion. One of the first who was found to have been killed instantly was Policeman Dennis Shea, of the Fourth pre einct. F. S. Hollingwood was found to have had his right leg almost blown off at the knee. He was conscious when a police wan approached him, and moaned, "For God's sake find my wife. She is standing near the second electric light pole from here, and she is alone in the city."

On the northeast corner of Twenty fourth street and Madison avenue stands the handsome double brown stone residence occupied by David Wolf Bishop. On its broad stone steps, huddled together lay the bodies of three boys apparently about 14 or 15 there from their advanced position in the crowd, close by the spot where the fireworks were being sent off. All of them were shockingly mangled and were apparently killed instantly. Scattered along the asphalt of Madison avenue lay several other bodies, while nearly a score of the injured, many of whom were terribly mangled burned and cut were moaning piteously for help.
